Former paraglider, turned microlighter. Almost anything aviation related interests me, and its sub-topics and the camaraderie which accompanies aviation as a sport.

The call was made by RAANZ for a RAANZ member from any experience or walk-of-life to apply to join the RAANZ exec, so I wish to apply and if successful I'll represent young or new pilots who are ambitious and have a clear understanding of the values required to be a good pilot, but with particular focus on safety, enjoyment and learning.

I'm keen to learn what is being proposed, such as talks/ideas around whether aligning high-performance microlight licensing + syllabus with GA, or rather to meet somewhere in the middle, hopefully for the benefit of microlighting and GA. If we retain current microlight syllabus, could we be afforded opportunity to gain an extended type rating in such aircraft as a cub, 172, Cherokee?
